Solar spray pumps distributed to farmers

Farmers were given solar spray pumps under the Bayer and Sehgal Foundation partnership project Gram Unnati in districts Jodhpur, Barmer, and Pali, Rajasthan. Project Gram Unnati aims to benefit smallholder farmers by improving crop productivity through promotion of better agronomic practices, conserving water through promotion of water saving irrigation practices and rainwater harvesting, and build capacities of farmers through exposure visits and training sessions.