Animal Health Camp organized in village Rohira

Topics such as animal healthcare, including animal insurance were discussed at the animal health camp organized in village Rohira in Nuh, Haryana. About 83 farmers got their animals checked at the camp and 40 farmers registered for animal insurance. Veterinary doctor present at the camp shared about regular medical checkup for animals such that they can continue to be a source of livelihood for farmers.